

Virtual Paralysis Of Coal Industry In Prospect

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

Some days ago in writing about the many new people now living in our community I did not mention the fact that nearly every one likes our city and the good folks in it. They like our schools, churches and stores and our hospitality was commented on many times by the workers on the "Big Inch" pipeline who were here temporarily. These folks move often and see the country from the oilfields of the West to the refineries of the East.

Generally speaking, newcomers who find us cordial and hospitable are themselves friendly and agreeable. If they give us a chance we usually show them that Fayette County people really extend the glad hand of welcome to new residents when we meet them at church, in business dealings and wherever we have a chance to mingle together. I feel that anyone who might consider this a "cold" community has failed to give us the opportunity to show our neighborliness.

Out of the nowhere into the here comes this anguished plea to the readers of the Record-Herald. . . suggestions would be appreciated, the anonymous sufferer says. . . we haven't any. . . have you?

This is the letter:

"I don't know what the opposite of insomnia is, but I'm sure I'm a victim.

"These are the symptoms: When I get up in the morning, I don't wake up. I just open my eyes, and that's all there is to it. I can't remember what I eat for breakfast — I do know, though, that I drink several quarts of coffee in a fruitless effort to keep awake.

"Then, later on in the morning I go to sleep again, still with my eyes open, of course. I've got to fool people. By mid-afternoon, I am lost forever. I dash around madly accomplishing nothing.

"Now this is my problem. What can I do to keep awake all over? Not just my eyes. I sleep at night, honest. I take long walks in the brisk autumn air, but the only air that gets into my lungs comes in through my mouth when I yawn. I take cold showers and cold baths. I have even tried NO-DOZ tablets. But nothing helps me. I'm a nervous wreck. . . I can't keep awake. All this sleep is killing me!"

A local food market manager was pouring over some of the new regulations on food when I accosted him.

I noticed he had taken on two or three additional lines in his forehead since food rationing and restrictions were put into effect. "How are you getting along?" I asked.

"Just grinning and bearing it," he replied with a smile. "Sometimes I grin and other times I just bear it," he concluded, and I believe that expressed his meaning just as well as if he had spent a full hour telling me all about his troubles in the big market.

FLYING FORTRESSES BAG NAZI FIGHTERS

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The bag of 186 German fighters by Fortresses in the October 14 raid on Schweinfurt gives the Eighth U. S. Airforce a new month's record of at least 621 planes in seven raids.

This is 80 more than in August, the previous month's losses, 174 to date, 60 more than the previous high in August.

The score in September for ten raids was about 300 German planes destroyed against 72 bombers lost.

TRAFFIC TOLL MORE THAN THAT OF WAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—(AP)—War time driving restrictions have aided in reducing traffic deaths but the total since Pearl Harbor is twice the nation's battle losses, the National Safety Council said today.

Since war began, 21,940 have died in combat and 46,000 in traffic accidents, the Council said, adding that official government figures list 65,170 wounded and missing, excluding prisoners of war, while traffic injuries were suffered by 1,600,000 persons, 110,000 of whom were permanently disabled.

STRIKE PROBLEM IS LAID IN LAP OF PRESIDENT

Government Operation of Mines Looms as New Crisis Develops

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)

A new coal crisis—the fourth in six months—faced President Roosevelt today as spreading strikes indicated a probable near-paralysis of the industry by Monday.

The critical labor situation was highlighted by these developments:

1. The number of idle mine workers exceeded 60,000 early today and the figure was expected to grow hourly.

2. The War Labor Board (WLB) referred the strikes to the president, making government seizure of the idle mines virtually imperative under the War Labor Disputes Act. Such seizure would immediately make any person who encouraged interruption of production subject to criminal prosecution. If the president orders the seizure before Monday, it will give tremendous impetus to the meeting of United Mine Workers' policy committee on that day.

3. The WLB announced its decision in the Pennsylvania anthracite miners' dispute, awarding an increase of 32.2 cents a day under the Little Steel Formula, free tools and equipment estimated to be worth 20 to 25 cents a day, and an increase in the annual vacation payment from $20 to $50. The anthracite miners had asked an increase of $2 a day and portal-to-portal pay, and an unfavorable reaction to the decision was seen immediately.

POST-WAR POLICIES SCORED BY WHEELER

Interpreted as Supporting
Russia's Demands

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Sharply critical of moves to commit this country now on post war policies, Senator Wheeler (D, Mont.) told the Senate today passage of the Connally peace resolution would be interpreted by Russia as backing her "demands for a large slice of Poland, the Bosphorus, the Balkans and the Baltic States."

Wheeler took the floor in the fifth day of debate after Senator George (D, Ga.) had told a reporter he believed half of the effectiveness of the Connally proposal had been destroyed by haggling over words and phrases in seemingly "interminable" discussion carried on largely by those who want to spell out post war commitments.

'GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY' SIGN GETS REAL RESULTS

PITTSBURG, Kas., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Lt. Ian P. McGreal, soaring over the Kansas plains, suddenly realized he was lost.

He recalled flying instructors had told him to swoop low over a water tower and read the name of the town, if he got lost.

He spotted a tower and had to drop to 500 feet before he could read the sign.

It said: "Go to church Sunday."

McGreal finally found his way back—and he went to church Sunday.

VICTORY GARDENS HELP

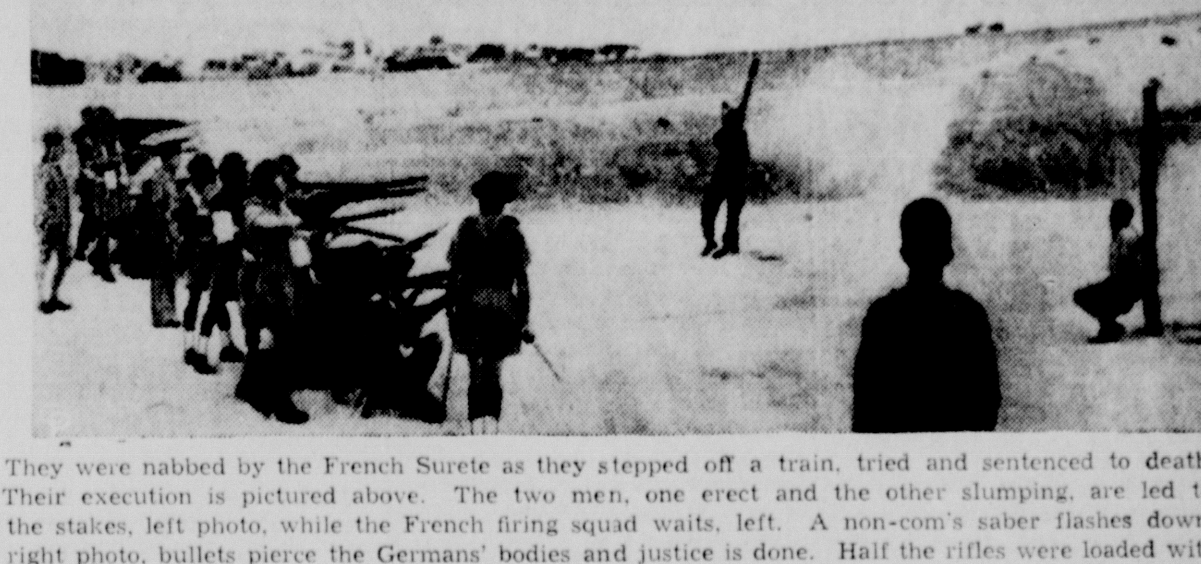

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Victory gardens whittled at least $1,250,000,000 from the country's total food bill this year, the American Institute of Food Distribution estimated today.

NAZI SHAKE-UP IN ITALY

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—An Axis source confirmed today that Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring had been relieved of his command in southern Italy and that General Heinrich Von Wittenhoff had succeeded him.

LONG, CAREFUL TRAINING in German espionage and sabotage came to nought when two Nazi agents attempted to put their training into practice in French-controlled Syria and the Levant states.

They were nabbed by the French Surete as they stepped off a train, tried and sentenced to death. Their execution is pictured above. The two men, one erect and the other slumping, are led to the stakes, left photo, while the French firing squad waits, left. REDS CLOSING NAZI DEATH TRAP

Yanks At Rabaul Door

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC

Oct. 29.—(AP)—Warships, planes and troops of Adm. William F. Halsey have stormed the Treasury Islands, 30 miles south of Bougainville, as the entering wedge to pry the Japanese loose from their last Solomons bases and fling open the door to Rabaul.

The operation, disclosed today in war reports, was executed brilliantly. Beginning last Friday, American bombers knocked out nearby enemy airfields with 500 tons of explosives.

In the darkness before dawn Wednesday, naval guns of a task force commanded by Rear Adm. Theodore S. Wilkinson poured shells on Mono and Stirling tiny coral reefs comprising the Treasury group.

At dawn, American and New Zealand troops moved off big ships to landing barges and headed for the beaches. Overhead, swarms of planes roamed unchallenged. Warships laid down a smoke screen. Rain squalls added a natural curtain.

Mortar fire greeted first arrivals. These weapons were silenced quickly. Then the Japanese broke and fled into the hills.

"It was a splendid Navy Day show," Admiral Wilkinson told all hands.

Once mopping up is completed, heavily-wooded Mono and the tiny plantation isle of Stirling provide Admiral Halsey with positions close to the Shortlands, potential stepping stones for an invasion of Bougainville. The enemy's airfields on southern Bougainville already have been cratered into present uselessness.

Yugoslav Guerrillas Hit Nazis In Balkans In Spite Of Own Feud

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Partisan forces of Josip Broz (Tito) have struck one of their most effective blows against Germany's campaign in Yugoslavia by cutting the important Zagreb-Belgrade railway in 130 places along a 40-mile stretch just east of Zagreb, a Yugoslav National Army communique said today.

The communique, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav radio, said several bridges were blown up, four trains destroyed, and more than 1,000 telegraph poles felled. More than 270 German troops were slain, the bulletin asserted.

This and other new successes were announced while Yugoslavia's bitter inner strife was (Please Turn to Page Ten)

COAL-GASOLINE TEST IS BALKED BY WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Inclement weather today postponed an experimental flight from Morgantown, W. Va., to Washington of an airplane powered by gasoline made from coal. Rep. Randolph (D-W.Va.) said the flight would be made next Friday.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The stage for endorsement of Gov. John W. Bricker for the Republican presidential nomination was set today.

1,200,086 GERMANS KILLED BY RAIDS

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A total of 1,200,086 German civilians have been killed, or reported missing and believed killed, in air raids from the beginning of the war to October 1, Swiss dispatches, quoting official German government statistics, said today.

The Zurich dispatches to London newspapers said also that 6,953,000 Germans have been bombed out and evacuated.

Civilian air raids casualties in the British Isles totaled 48,282 killed or reported missing and believed killed, up to September 30.

INVASION ACTIVITY IN SOUTH ENGLAND REPORTED BY NAZIS

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Invasion-conscious Germans today reported increased military activity observed by the reconnaissance planes in south England.

The Berlin radio said a thrust across the channel might be in preparation, to stem from deliberations in the Tri-Partite conference at Moscow.

The broadcast told of seeing a considerable increase in the volume of shipping in harbors on Britain's south coast, increased activity by minesweepers in the channel and fresh concentration of troop units.

SALES TAX IS OUT AS REVENUE RAISER

Postal Rates and Liquor Levy
Undecided

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Its work on a new revenue bill virtually completed after flat rejection of a sales tax, the house ways and means committee was called on today to reconsider its vote for increased postal rates and a 66 2-3 percent boost in liquor taxes.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) said the committee probably would put the whiskey tax at $8 a gallon instead of $10 as previously approved. The tax now is $6.

The new tax bill contains only about $2,000,000,000 added revenue, one-fifth of the sum requested by the administration. If the spirits tax is put at $8, the bill will be reduced by approximately $240,000,000 and other tax cutbacks appeared likely.

LAVAL MAY BE OUSTED BY NAZIS, LATEST HINT

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Berlin radio said today that the possibility of a shake-up in the puppet French government of Pierre Laval "is not being disputed" in German foreign office circles.

"Laval seems to have made contact with various personalities of public life in this direction, but it is premature to define at present the moment or form of the government reshuffle," the broadcast said.

JAP SHIPS TORPEDOED

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Berlin broadcast a DNB dispatch from Tokyo today saying that the Japanese merchant ships Kamuru Maru and Fuji Maru had been torpedoed in the East China Sea, with one sinking and the other being badly damaged.

Food Board For Allies Rearranged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill announced today a rearrangement of the Anglo-American combined Food Board whereby Secretary of Agriculture Wickard will be its "neutral" chairman and Canada will obtain membership.

Mr. Roosevelt termed the action a step toward simplification.

Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator, will be a member of the combined food board. A White House statement said this would facilitate the board's work in dealing with international food problems. Jones, the White House said, will be in a position to state the American point of view and any possibility of conflicting views in food allocation matters will be eliminated.

BRICKER IS OPPOSED TO GOVERNMENT AID

Teachers Underpaid But in Ohio They Go Up

TOLEDO, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker says public schools "should be kept a local function and should be in large measure locally financed" without benefit of federal aid.

Speaking at the 71st annual convention of the Northwestern Ohio Teachers' Association last night, Bricker expressed opposition to large scale federal participation in financing public schools. Local education should be paid for by local taxation, he declared.

The governor said teachers still were not paid adequately, although the average salary of teachers throughout Ohio had increased $250 during his five years in office.

MOSCOW MEETING SUCCESS, SAYS FDR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today the Moscow conference has been a great success and he indicated it was in its final phases where formal documents of agreement are being drafted.

Mr. Roosevelt told a press-radio conference also that he was very much in favor of a Senate declaration that, to avoid war in the future, this country will cooperate with others. But he did not care to say that the Connally resolution under discussion in the Senate was adequate.

MILLION MORE FATHERS IN LINE FOR SERVICE

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Major General Lewis B. Hershey believes that not more than 1,000,000 of the 6,000,000 available fathers between 18 and 38 will be drafted.

Deferments for industry and the high rate of medical rejections will probably result in only one out of six reaching service," the National Selective Service director said at a press conference last night.

U. S. WARSHIPS BLAST GERMAN LINES IN ITALY

Bloody Battles in Russia,
However, Overshadowing
Other War Fronts

By RICHARD McMURRAY

By The Associated Press

Threats of crippling disaster heightened for the German Army today as the Russians cut the last north-south railway east of the Bug River and pushed swiftly across the open Nogaishk steppe to within 60 miles of Perekop, last escape hatch of the Crimea.

Meanwhile, an American cruiser and destroyers, pouring broadsides into Marshal Erwin Rommel's line of communications along the ancient Appian Way, pounded the Minturno area to the rear of his Mt. Massico positions. Allied headquarters announced today, as the Allied Fifth and Eighth armies punched out short advances in the face of massed artillery.

Fighting through a driving rain, the Americans of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark smashed through rivulets and up bristling mountainsides for a gain of three miles in the Spanise area. They threatened the town of Teano, where four roads join to the east of Mt. Massico, the lofty anchor of the Rommel line defending Rome. Teano is 94 miles southeast of the Italian capital.

The Fifth Army's coastal flank still faced the Regia Canal, only four miles north of the Volturno, in its frontal advance on Mt. Massico and Mondragone, with British elements for the most part not yet over the barrier.

Farther to the northeast, in the Raviscanina region, the Fifth Army consolidated its gains in important high ground dominating valley roads leading north along the upper Volturno toward Venafrò, another key point in the Rommel line.

(The German communique said Nazi forces had been obliged to withdraw to new mountain positions on both sides of the Volturno in the face of powerful Allied assaults.)

ITALIAN PRISONERS TO BE GIVEN JOBS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Italian war prisoners who have been in custody for at least six months and "who have shown by their demeanor that they can be trusted" will be allowed to do work outside of prison camps without guards.

In making this announcement today, the War Department said the new system for prisoners will be instituted gradually, with its operation "closely supervised by the military authorities." The department said "no prisoners will be paroled; that is, released into the custody of individuals who would assume full time responsibility for them."

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Political Upheavals in Europe Indicative of Problems To Be Faced After War Is Won

The bitter internal strife which is beginning to rend numerous European countries—even those which are struggling for their lives with the Hitlerites—is symptomatic of vast political changes which the war's end will bring in many parts of the tortured continent.

The outstanding example of the moment is Yugoslavia, one of the world's bravest little nations, whose quarrel among brothers is in the news again today. But volcanic rumblings in many other countries indicate a coming upheaval.

The Europe which we knew before this war is on its way out—in fact, it already has gone, and closed the door behind it. We can't see yet whether it will be a better Europe, but it will be a different one.

Is there anything we can do about it? Not much, it seems, excepting to safeguard the country involved from outside interference during its travail. Self-determination must take its course, long as it is ready for democracy. Indeed, if any of the Big Three—America, Britain or Russia—should attempt to impose its own political ideas it might produce an Allied rupture which would result in another war.

A fair explanation of what sort of ferment is at work was given the other day by Premier Badoglio, who is head of the co-belligerent Italian government. One might be rash in accepting all Badoglio's words as golden, but he called the turn when he told the British "Eighth Army News" publication:

"People are excited and overwrought after the distress of war. If conditions are too bad and they are without hope they turn to other presumed cures."

Italy itself is torn with political factions, even while the war rages on the peninsula. Some want to get rid of the royal house; others are trying to shore up the shaky foundations. Some desire a republic, and Communism has an active following. No man can foresee what will happen politically in Rome.

In Yugoslavia even while the Germans are trying to destroy the country, we have a fierce quarrel between the forces of General Josip (Drugi Tito) Broz and the army of General Mihailovic, who is minister of war in young King Peter's government which now has its seat in Cairo. Each accuses the other of making fratricidal warfare. Drug Tito wears the emblems of Communism, as do most of his troops.

ner, reeled back under the impact of Gen. MacArthur's offensive which swept up the Treasury Islands, 265 miles southeast of the key base of Rabaul.

The actions in Italy and the Pacific were only miniatures of the gargantuan struggle in Russia where the Red army was striking relentlessly at the fleeing Germans in a sustained offensive.

Advancing 12 to 18 miles a day, one of the four red armies of the Ukraine seized the important road center of Nizhne-Saragzhy, 46 miles west of Melitopol and 44 miles short of the lower reaches of the Dnieper River at the historic town of Kakhovka.

A mighty Russian tank force crushing down on Krivoi Rog, strategic Dnieper loop city, from the north, began its second day of battle today with last-ditch German armor in a fierce struggle for possession of the iron mine and rail center.

The battle is "still in full progress," the German high command communique said. The Nazis asserted they had destroyed 115 Russian tanks.

South of the Dnieper loop, Red army troops were plunging through the wide steppes of the southern Ukraine less than 60 miles from Perekop, last door of escape open to the Nazi Crimean garrisons, Moscow said.

9,659 RATION BOOKS ISSUED IN CITY, TOTAL

With issuing of Ration Book 4 now complete, OPA released figures show that 9,659 books were issued in Washington C. H. schools 154 more than the 9,505 number two books distributed by the schools here.

No figures are available yet on the total books issued in the county schools, OPA said, explaining that most of the county schools would bring their reports in to the office here Saturday to save making an extra trip into town. When Book 2 was issued, 9,844 were distributed through the county schools to make a total of 19,349 for Fayette County.

Eber school ran out of Ration Book 4 during the registration this week and issued applications to book holders in lieu of the book itself. Holders of these applications may bring the application and Ration Book 3 to the OPA to receive Ration Book 4 after November 10, it was announced today.

Anyone who did not obtain a War Ration Book 4 during the registration at the schools, may bring Book 3 to the OPA after November 10 to receive his new book, the announcement continued.

Book 4 becomes valid next Monday.

Persons who are discharged from military service and new born children may get Ration Book 4 by presenting discharge papers or birth certificates at the OPA, it was learned today.

Windup of Ration Book 4 issuing in city schools Thursday as announced by Walter Bettig, principal of Washington High School, shows that Sunnyside School issued 519 books to make a total of 2141 issued there during the four days of issuing. Central School issued 752 Thursday, totaling 2695; Eastside School, 684, total, 2427; Cherry Hill School, 368, total, 1250; Rose Avenue School, 304, total, 1146.

Reinforced at Krivoi Rog, the communication center was resisting stubbornly although the bastion was hammered on three sides. Driving 35 miles to the northwest, the Russians captured Marianovka and thus cut the rail line from Znamenka to Nikolaev, last important route east of the Bug.

Columns driving southeast from the Krivoi Rog bulge and north-west from the Melitopol salient were within 83 miles of a junction which would close a great trap on Nazis lingering in the farther reaches of the Dnieper bend.

In the Krivoi Rog region, the Russians were 145 miles from Odessa, major Black Sea port. The southern wing was 170 miles away and moving with greater speed over flat land which presented the Nazis with no tenable defenses. Moscow, indeed, said "German defenses have cracked all along the front between Melitopol and the Sea of Azov."

It was problematic as to how many of the 100,000 men of the German 17th army and the estimated 250,000 war convalescents could be evacuated from the Crimea.

Some 600 miles to the north, where the terrible Russian winter already has started its march from the frozen Arctic tundras, other Red forces renewed an offensive in white Russia which drove within 25 miles of Vitebsk, German base far west of Smolensk.

VIRTUAL PARALYSIS OF COAL INDUSTRY IS NOW IN PROSPECT

The most serious impact of the strike was reported from Alabama where the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company said a shutdown of its vast Ensley steel works was imminent because of a fuel shortage.

The anthracite industry was feeling the effects of the miners' dissatisfaction, some local unions voting not to work today.

The lure of time and a half on Saturday may keep some mines going this week, but Sunday night is the terminal period for the working instructions issued by the UMW leadership last June.

A telegram from Lewis to UMW district presidents gave the cue to the union's official interpretation of the WLB's proposal for settling the underground travel pay issue. Lewis said the proposal, issued Tuesday in the flaming anew with Tito and the opposing faction, led by Gen. Draja Mihailovic, denouncing each other in a dispute that independent Balkan advances indicate may have been German inspired.

Adding fuel to this fire, Tito's communique today asserted his followers had clashed in a sharp action near Bistrica with units of Mihailovic's army who, the bulletin said, were aided by Italian "blackshirts" and "Quislings" led by pro-Nazi Milan Nedie.

The Yugoslav communique reported that German amphibious forces had attempted a landing on the large Dalmatian island of Brae which faces the port of Split. The entire landing force was destroyed, the bulletin stated. German units, however, did land on the Peljesca Peninsula, 100 miles down the coast, and established a bridgehead.

CROAT NAZI KILLED

CAIRO, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Yugoslav information office announced today that Father Dionisius Juric, personal chaplain of Dr. Anton Pavelic, rubber stamp dictator of the German-backed Croat government, had been killed in a recent combat between Quisling forces and Gen. A large-scale purge of Pavelic's party—the Ustachi—was reported continuing.

ARREST TRIO FOR THEFTS OF SUGAR, TIRE

West Holland Residents, Including Woman, Are Jailed

Howard French, 24, his brother, Clifford French, 18, and Howard's mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna Lewis 42, of West Holland, are in the Pickaway County jail in connection with theft of 60 pounds of sugar stolen from a Boecher Trucking Co. truck in New Holland a few days ago, and for theft of an automobile tire stolen from the Crone Tire Shop in this city sometime ago, and recovered, with part of the sugar, at the French hang-out in West Holland.

Sheriff W. H. Icenhower and Sheriff Charles Radcliff, of Pickaway County, conducted the investigation and made the arrests, the younger French being taken into custody at the Pennington Bakery in this city and Howard French and his mother-in-law in New Holland.

The 60-pound bag of sugar contained five pound bags, and part of these were recovered at the French home, a log house located in West Holland.

Actual theft of the various articles is attributed to Clifford, who admitted taking the tire and the sugar. Officers said the others had used the stolen articles or knew they were stolen and were concealing them. Howard and Mrs. Lewis were in the French car when the sugar was stolen.

The sugar was stolen while the truck was unloading goods in New Holland. The tire was stolen while Howard and Clifford French were in the tire shop here having some work done. It was missed soon after their departure, and report made to Sheriff Icenhower.

Checking of the French automobile has been under way for the past two or three weeks, but when the stolen tire was located it was on another car at the French home.

Accosted by the officers in New Holland, French told them that he had never lied to them, and was "not going to do so now", so he told them they would find two five pound bags of the sugar at his home, and part of the remainder would be found at the home of his mother. He said his brother stole it, and Clifford admitted the theft when arrested here.

As sugar and tires are both rationed, the penalty for theft of the articles is a severe one.

As soon as the Pickaway County authorities get through with the French brothers, Sheriff Icenhower said they would be brought to this city for prosecution for the tire theft.

Investigation in connection with a hog or two found on the French premises, is also under way, Sheriff Icenhower said.

PLANNING FOR PEACE

A committee on Utilization of War Plants and Surplus Property has been formed under the chairmanship of Albert C. Mattei of San Francisco. On the committee are 25 or more business men from all classes of industry and all sections of the country. They will study how to best utilize or dispose of surplus war plants and supplies. On their analysis and recommendations will largely rest the future industrial program of this nation. Business men have been invited to bring phases of the problems that are of particular concern to them to the attention of the committee.

The immensity of the job is a staggering undertaking. But the men in industry who built up the nation's war production and surpluses needed by our armed forces, will figure ways to dispose of or utilize the production capacity acquired by the government in such a manner as to not cripple or destroy private activity, both large and small, in the days of peace to come.

This committee should have the hearty and unselfish cooperation of every section of the country, for on the soundness of its planning will depend much of the future employment and prosperity in this country.

FUTURE MARITIME POWER

While exact figures cannot be obtained—nor could they be used if they were available—there seems to be no doubt that the United States will end this war as the Colossus of the Seven Seas, the greatest maritime power this world ever has seen.

Digesting information made public by the OWI, it appears that when the war began our Allies were able to scrape together 43 million tons of shipping and we had some 12 millions. (In every instance we are using deadweight figures.)

In the first 22 months of war the British lost a third of their 22 million tons, leaving them somewhat under 15 millions. They have not been able to balance losses with new construction, for the war as a whole. So the British merchant marine probably will wind up under 20 million tons—how much under, of course, is for Mr. Hitler to try to find out.

We went to war with close to 12 million tons and we have had more than 20 million delivered since Pearl Harbor. By New Year's morning the gross pool of American shipping is expected to approximate 40 million tons—almost twice as much as Great Britain, mistress of the seas, possessed before the war began.

It goes without saying that we shall not actually have 40 million tons of shipping on January 1 next. We have lost heavily to the Axis already, and shall lose more. But we, alone of the great maritime powers, have more cargo ships today than we had before the war, and it is a safe guess that we shall end the war with perhaps twice the shipping

Flashes of Life

Jeep Wears Gold Star for 'Parent' Sub
CHARLESTOWN, S. C.—The Navy has a jeep named Tadpole III, the sentimental "offspring" of a submarine, that Capt. H. F. Gearing, NSN, believes to be the only jeep with a gold star. "She was a neat jeep," Gearing recalled. "The sub that gave it to us carried it around with them under the sea when I was executive officer aboard a cruiser that carried a U. S. O. show. "The sub crew liked our shows and in appreciation for the entertainment plus 20 gallons of ice cream we steamed with the jeep. "A condition was that the jeep had to bear the name Tadpole III, as a memento to its mama fish. "Shortly after that sub was lost in gunfire action. That's how Tadpole III got to be the jeep with the gold star."

Great Britain will have, and infinitely more than any other power.

This situation is not outlined in a spirit of boasting. We are mighty proud of the skill, ingenuity and success with which our shipbuilding industry, much of it improvised for the purpose, has beaten the U-boats. We should be even more pleased if circumstances had made it possible for our Allies, the British, to do as well. There is nothing big-hearted in this. We want this war won, and fast, and it could be won faster if our Allies had more ships.

Rather, we mention our country's complete ascendancy on the seven seas as background for some qualifications and warnings to come later.

OLD QUESTION BOBS UP

Once more, in the midst of war, influential voices are being raised in favor of universal compulsory military training for American boys, so that we shall not enter another war as unprepared as we were in 1917 and in 1939-40.

The common sense of such a course seems obvious. We marvel now at our failure to do something of the sort before. As Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times, said recently, such training is the only way to provide a stream of younger soldiers to keep the peace their older brothers are beginning now to win.

But when peace comes, war weary and disgusted, will we again sing, "I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier," and again tolerate scurrilous campaigns against even voluntary R. O. T. C. training? We did before, after we said we wouldn't.

Cirrhosis of the Liver

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

"I SEE BY the medical journals," observed my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs, the other day,

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

"that somebody else has now discovered that drinking alcohol does not cause cirrhosis of the liver."

"All I can say is that in my practice, which has extended over 40 years, every time one of my patients passed out from cirrhosis of the liver I could remember a long history of being called up by his wife to come over and unhook him from the chandelier."

"But along here about 15 years ago the research boys began to report that they were producing cirrhosis of the liver in animals when they gave them a diet low in protein and vitamin B. I was a little skeptical of that, because I never saw what I would call cirrhosis of the liver in an animal. So I went to the medical school where these experiments were being carried on and looked at the livers. Well, all I can say is that what these animals had didn't look like cirrhosis to me."

"Now we have a report from Philadelphia showing that in 150 cases of cirrhosis of the liver there was no history of drinking in 105 of them (70 per cent.)."

"It all reminds me of the story of Dennis McTaw. When I was a kid around here, Dennis ran a dry goods store and a good one, and he made a lot of money, but along came five o'clock and he would get drunk. He used to do things that seemed to him at five o'clock were funny—like bringing home a mule dressed up in a straw hat and leading it into the parlor."

"Well, his wife was a very peculiar woman and she got tired of it and divorced Dennis, and he sold out and went to Denver. I was there once and went to call on him, and he took me into a saloon and all he had was a glass of milk. Said what his wife did to him had taught him a lesson and that he hadn't had a drink for over ten years."

"Well, one day I was sitting in my office and in came a patient, and a very nice woman she was. She wanted an examination and what she specially wanted to know was how was her liver. So I examined her carefully and the first thing I said was she needn't worry about her liver at all. And she wanted to know why, and I said because in the first place it didn't show anything, and in the second place the principal cause of liver trouble was liquor."

"Now," says she, "I know you are no good."

"How do you know?" I says. "Because my brother just died in Denver of liver trouble and he never had a drink in his life."

"What was his name?" I asked. "Dennis McTaw," she answered.

And I guess that accounts for that 70 per cent in Philadelphia.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. H. Q.:—Does temperature rise more readily in children than in adults?

Answer: Yes. Bremmerman recently reported some tests on people before and after exercise with oral and rectal temperatures. Of course, exercise increases temperature in all, both old and young, but the increase in the children was much greater and maintained longer.

H. W. D.:—Will you explain briefly what rhinitis is? Does it do away with your sense of smell?

Answer: Rhinitis is literally, according to the meaning of the word, an inflammation of the nose. A cold is an acute rhinitis. The cavities and twisting bones of the nose—the sinuses—are so numerous that a chronic case is most difficult to treat. In some cases the mucous membrane is destroyed and the sense of smell disappears. The variations are so great that the only sensible advice I can give is to see a good doctor who specializes in the nose.

ASK ADAM

RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

"RUTH HASN'T said for sure when the wedding will be," Jack replied to Adam. "But I've a hunch she'll make it soon. That explosion last night sort of blew her into my arms. We felt it, you know, even out at the high school."

"Then it's an ill explosion that blows no girl where she belongs, if I may paraphrase," said Adam, and laughed. "When you go down, will you tell Mrs. Potter I'd like to see her?"

"I can't," said Jack. "She didn't come to work today."

"Why?"

"I couldn't say," Jack replied. "All I know is that the cook said he reckoned she was sleeping late on account of the explosion."

"Okay," said Adam. "She deserves a day off."

He watched Jack go, and then picked up some papers. But he couldn't concentrate. His mind kept turning to other matters. Uncle Joseph Leigh's portrait flat on its back on the floor. Shattered glass. Brenda and Aunt Mary out at the Leigh place all alone. Darn it all, they needed a man out there to help them get cleaned up.

He got to his feet. He got his hat, and walked into the outer office.

"Ruth," he said, "I'm going out. Expect me back when you see me, and—"

"Oh, yes, I almost forgot," said Ruth. "Mrs. Allen John Harrington wants you for dinner tonight. Her husband's been called away, and she—"

"Call her," said Adam, and tell her that from now on "asking Adam" is out! A game that's gone out of fashion. He blew Ruth a kiss from the doorway. "And for Pete's sake stop stalling around with Jack Vinton. Go on and marry the lad—with my blessings, and anything for a wedding present you name!"

He was gone, the door closing behind him with a cheerful little click. Ruth sat perfectly still, staring after him. And then an odd thing happened, something that made her sit up with a start. "Why, he seems like an older brother, or—"

Back in Linville Bill Potter, some blueprints in one hand and a bunch of papers in the other, ran down the stairs of the Potter cottage, dashed into the living room and tripped over the vacuum cleaner cord.

"That you, Jack?" she said.

"Yes," said Jack. "What's up?"

"I want you to come up," said Ruth, laughing.

"I was just there," said Jack.

"What the heck—"

"I want you to come up here this minute," said Ruth, "and ask me to marry you."

"Oh, boy!" Jack exclaimed. "Stay right where you are! I'm on my way!"

Ruth hung up the receiver and smiled. Just as Brenda Leigh also smiled a little later when she opened the front door to Adam.

"Pardon the broken glass," she said, "but we had a little blowout this way last night."

"So I heard," said Adam. "I thought maybe I could be of help around the place. Hanging pictures, you know—things like that. A man's pretty handy at times, believe it or not."

Brenda stood perfectly still, her head thrown back, her eyes sparkling. "Adam North," she said, "I've just written that man in New York that I'm not coming back—that I'm staying right here until I—"

—die. And if I die a dried-up, cranky old maid, "it'll be your fault."

"You an old maid!" said Adam. "Don't be silly, darling!" He took her in his arms. "Brenda, will you marry me now—today?"

"Yes," said Brenda, "just as soon as I fix my hair and put on a little color." She snuggled. "Gosh, Adam, I'm happy," she said. "Even if it did take two saboteurs, a near-murder and an explosion to make you propose."

"I've been wanting to propose for a long while," said Adam, "but what with the world in the shape it's in, and everything so uncertain, I sort of thought maybe I'd better let you go on with your career."

"Darn my career!" said Brenda. "I'm sticking here, making marriage my vocation—and writing only when the spirit moves me. Kiss me, Adam."

Adam did so—just as Aunt Mary Mosher came in to ask a question. But she never asked it. She saw Brenda in Adam's arms, and tipping out, thanking God Miss Brenda wasn't going to die an old maid after all.

Back in Linville Bill Potter, some blueprints in one hand and a bunch of papers in the other, ran down the stairs of the Potter cottage, dashed into the living room and tripped over the vacuum cleaner cord.

"Darn!" he said explosively. "What on earth happened?" Susan Potter called from the rear hall.

"Yes, my lord and master," said Susan, and smiled.

She had a hunch Adam and Brenda weren't going to need any help—not after all Brenda had told her about what had happened last night.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Just dropped by to tell you, Frank, I had a fine letter from your son, Joe, this morning. Mighty nice of him to take the time to write me... I know how busy they keep the boys. That's a fine camp he's been transferred to up in New England."

"Yes, Catherine and I had a letter this morning, too. Said he was writing you... he's very fond of you, Judge. Catherine is certainly proud of Joe and proud of the great Army he's a part of."

"She has good reason to be, Frank."

Joe is one fine fellow and the Army he's in is the best disciplined, best behaved in our history. Just last night I was reading an article that quoted a report signed by five chaplains in the very camp where Joe is now training. I remember their exact words which were "there is no liquor problem at this Post." And I understand that's true in camp after camp all over the country. And if Catherine would like to see that report, I'll drop it off at the house tomorrow."

Washington at a Glance

Washington — When all is said and done, it may be the prisoners of war and particularly the German prisoners of war who will save this country from a more drastic pulpwood shortage.

On the surface, that may seem a far-fetched prediction, but the Forest Service is saying here now that if certain prejudices can be broken down (and it appears that they can) the United States can avoid that margin for error which would deprive us of the minimum of newspaper, magazine, pamphlet and writing paper.

The background of the story must be told first. On July 1, the War Production Board turned over to the Forest Service $1,000,000, with the directive: "Produce more timber or else." It was decided that this development program should be confined to lumber producing states east of the Great Plains. That includes 11 southern states; the Lake States, including Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri as well as those bordering on the Lakes farther west; and the eastern states, which include Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Within the Forest Service, the program was divided into three parts: logging, milling and labor. In charge of the last was placed a two-fisted, experienced forester, Donald M. Rochester, the Forest Service's chief training officer. Don looks like he might have once played half-back for his native Michigan football team, but making holes in yesteryear's Minnesota line would have been young child's play to bucking the play they called for him this time.

The lumber industry has been out of labor for months and is losing steadily. Surveying the whole field, Rochester could find only two possible sources of new labor—a negligible amount which could be imported from the Caribbean and Mexico and that in the Army prison camps. Since the former was almost completely spoken for, Rochester decided to go to work on the prisoners of war.

He first discovered that by the terms of the Geneva conference, we cannot use prisoners of war in hazardous industries. Logging, he found was out completely, since it is listed as the most hazardous industry on the books. He did find, however, that prisoners of war could be employed in the cutting of pulpwood forests and in certain non-hazardous mill jobs.

Then he found that the lumber industry, in spite of its manpower shortages, was not inclined to take on prisoner-of-war labor. And although about one-fourth of our 140,000 prisoners of war already in camps in this country are German and Italian farm boys who know how to swing an ax, practically none were experienced in timber cutting or milling.

Rochester was finally told by Col. I. B. Summers, of the provost marshal's general office to use whatever prison-of-war labor he could solicit and train. That was enough. As a result, that portion of our pulpwood and non-hazardous mill industry workers who spell the difference between something and nothing probably soon will be hacking away at our pulpwood forests and working around some of the 45,000 sawmills that take care of the defined area.

World Service Guild Entertains the Women's Missionary Society

Mrs. John K. Abernethy very cordially opened her home to the World Service Guild of the First Presbyterian Church and their guests, members of the Women's Missionary Society, Wednesday evening.

Large vases of chrysanthemums in autumn colors adorned the spacious rooms of the manse.

Mrs. C. L. Musser, president of the Guild opened the meeting with a welcome to the guests and by reading a Call to Worship.

A brief business meeting followed.

Mrs. Abernethy gave a report of the district meeting which was held in Frankfort on Friday, October 8 and was attended by sixteen women from here. Miss Clara Davis was the devotional leader and Miss Marie Hughes read from the Year Book of Prayer, following with a prayer for missionaries. A magazine review was given by Mrs. Marguerite Powell.

By victrola recording, Mrs. Miller of Louisville, Ky., mother of Mrs. Abernethy, sang very beautifully a hymn, "Christ of the Cross."

The main speaker of the evening was Rev. Abernethy, who told in a very interesting manner of his trip to Alaska during the summer of 1939, using a large map of Alaska to illustrate the route which he followed.

He stated that he accompanied Dr. Fred Thorn of the Board of National Missions and they went on this trip for the purpose of taking moving pictures of mission stations and the work which is being done among the Alaskans by Presbyterians. Sitka was the city first visited and the location of the Sheldon Jackson School, which is only for native Alaskan-Indian high school-age children. No white children are allowed at this school. All of the teachers are Christian people and the boys and girls are educated to go back to their own communities to be Christian leaders.

From Sitka, the two travelers went to Skagway, which is a small town of the past, but with a very good church.

The other point of special interest to Presbyterians is Haines House, which is a home for very young children. Following a visit at this home, Rev. Abernethy and his companion went on around the coast, marvelling at the beautiful scenery and especially the Columbia glacier, which he described very vividly.

From Fairbanks, in Central Alaska, they flew by plane over many mountains and through fog to the northernmost point of the country, Point Barrow.

Here also, is located a mission station. In Central Alaska there are a few farms and the produce is better and more tasty than many of the same foods in our country. The weather was fairly warm, temperature being around 60 degrees during the trip and for weeks the travelers did not experience any nights of darkness. On the return trip, while at Anchorage, they met the Presbyterian minister there, who had been serving voluntarily as army chaplain to our U. S. service men.

Rev. Abernethy closed by saying that we have a right to be very proud of the good work being done by our missionaries in Alaska.

Following his talk, a question and answer forum was held, then the meeting was adjourned with the Mizpah benediction. Lovely refreshments were

Hints for Gayer Hallowe'en Party

Make this Hallowe'en party the best of all. Invite your friends in (and include some servicemen) to help you celebrate All Saint's day the old fashioned way—in a weird setting that suggests the presence of ghosts, hobgoblins and witches.

Blue crepe paper over the electric lights, eerie looking jack-o-lanterns, plenty of corn stalks, brooms and sheets draped around the room in desired fashion should create the desired effect.

A fortune telling booth is always a big attraction. Have one of your guests—preferably one with a good sense of humor—play the seer and arrange a booth with mystic draperies and dim lights as the setting for your "sees all, tells all" witch or wizard.

-Spyina- On Sports By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The big league hockey season gets under way tomorrow night. Surprisingly, there are several experienced players still around—including husky guys like Pat Egan, discharged from the Canadian army, and Babe Pratt, who was rejected. Still, they're calling kids who played part of last season "veterans" now and there isn't a goalie in the league who has played a full season in the major circuit. In fact, far as we can recall, only Detroit's Jimmy Franks and 35-year-old Benny Grant, dragged out of retirement and propped up in the Toronto net, are the only ones who have played even a few games. It'll probably be a lively season, but it's a good thing for the big-time that the Curtis Bay Coast Guard outfit is playing in the "amateur" league.

Although Macomb, Ill., high school won its game at Havana last week, fans still are demanding a recount on an 85-yard touchdown run by full-back Don Daniels. Looking around after the play, officials could only find ten Macomb players on the field so they nullified the score. The eleventh man was there, all right, but so many sideline fans crowded onto the edge of the field to watch the run that the missing player was lost in the throng.

College athletes who used to vow they wouldn't shave until they won a game now have given way to college athletes who likely won't win a game until they're old enough to shave.

The Great Lakes Naval Station and Chicago's navy pier have entered teams in the Loyola cross country run tomorrow. Since when have sailors needed to run? Sports boost: Capt. Elmer Salter reports that the boys at the Bainbridge, Ga., army air field cheer the newsreel shots of the big-time football games almost as loudly as they do the glimmer girls who appear on the post theater screen.

The Orange Bowl already is two-thirds sold out for the New Year's Day grid game although the committee hasn't any idea what teams will play which helps explain why they're planning to increase the bowl's capacity to 70,000 after the war.

API Basketball League Is Being Organized Here

A basketball league, made up of six teams composed of workers at the Aeronautical Products, Inc., plant here today is in the final stages of organization, it was revealed by one of the players who has taken an active part in its promotion.

FOUR-TEAM DEADLOCK IN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE IS NOW CUT IN HALF

The four-team deadlock at the top of the Industrial League was cut in two as the big guns of bowling laid down a barrage on the ducks at the Main Street alleys Thursday night.

The Coca Cola and Pennington outfits today had to play second fiddle to the Pure Oilers and the Ring boys from Jeffersonville, who now hold the lead jointly. At the start of the matches four outfits were all on even terms with six wins and three defeats. Thursday night the Ringers and Pure Oilers took two of their three games while the Bakers and Cokes lost two out of three.

The Ringers and Bakers held the spotlight because they were the only two of the four leaders matched against each other. The other two met teams below the midmark in the standings and defeat. All of which served to tighten an already tight scramble.

The Slagle and Kirk team maintained its unenviable record by losing all three games to the Producers to keep the cellar free of all visitors.

Sgt. Louis Picks Star Harvey as Title Contender

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Sgt. Joe Louis, who hasn't retired up his mind whether to retire as heavyweight boxing champion at the end of the war, has nominated his own leading contender for the title.

It's Star Harvey, a New York Negro, now in the army. "He's a much better fighter than he was before he entered the service," said Lewis, who is giving boxing exhibitions over the nation. "He's the best I've seen to date."

$1,850 BOAR
LONDON—One of the highest priced Hampshire boars ever brought into Madison County, "Time Tested," cost $1,850 and heads the Orelton Farms herd. It was purchased at Cessor Farm, Farmington, Mich.

A schedule of 15 games is contemplated, with the first games tentatively slated for next Tuesday night, it was said. In the meantime, the player lists are to be certified and the teams welded into playing units. Names are to be selected for the six squads and captains and managers named within the next day or two.

Plans for the league have been progressing quietly for some time it was said, but it is still in somewhat of a nebulous state although it is now beginning to take definite form.

Present plans call for playing all the games on the Armory floor, three each Tuesday night starting at 7:30 P. M. fast time. Whether any arrangements have been made for practice sessions was not made clear. The schedule calls for 15 games over the playing period which includes a two-week holiday recess.

It was said that plans call for an admission of 15 cents per person but that season tickets would be available for $1.10 each.

Sponsors of the league are looking forward, too, to entering one or two teams in the City League—if one can be organized this year with so many young men away from here in the armed forces. If the City League does develop, the pick of the API loop teams will be formed into one or two teams to represent the API in it, it was said.

The Melvin Stone Crushers, hit the jackpot in their opening game with the Pure Oilers but could not keep up the pace and lost the last two by a 2556 to 2576 total pin margin.

The Mt. Sterling boys smacked the Coca Colas in the opener of their match, slumped just enough in the second to take it on the chin and then came back with a big fat 999 to win the finale. The Coca Colas, paced by Yerian with a 548, made the opposition go to the limit to take the 2842 to 2768 total score advantage.

jections are to be made. J. Paul Strevey, the president, expressed the hope that "every one of the members of recent years will attend this meeting."

While reorganization is the primary purpose of the Sunday get-together, it was said that the sale of hunting and fishing licenses would be one of the chief topics up for discussion. The club, it was explained, has handled this chore for the State Conservation Department with the help of Chalmers Burns, the county's game protector, and that the fees derived go into the club treasury for its activities and various projects.

Because war had diverted interest of so many members and the upsurge of patriotic spirit, the club has invested "every dollar it could get" in War Bonds. This phase of the club's program also will be discussed Sunday, it was intimated.

High School Girls Take Up Bowling

Rebecca Wyatt today holds the top spot in bowling among a group of six Future Home Makers of America, a high school organization but Wilma Peacock already is giving her some competition.

The girls, all novices at the sport, meet periodically on the Main Street alleys for recreation. Their scores shows that practice leads to improvement. The scores of their last two-game match were:

Wilma Peacock	147	75
Rebecca Wyatt	147	75
Flora Rose	73	73
Clara Belle	70	72
Letha Jane Robinson	70	97

Conservation Club To Be Reorganized

The Fayette County Conservation Club, the successor to the once all-embracing Fish and Game Association which numbered its members in four figures, is to be revived at a meeting called for next Sunday at 2:30 P. M. at Rife's Book Store, corner Main and Market Streets—if interest warrants.

The club was formed to take the place of the Fish and Game Association several years ago, but the parent organization had all but faded out of the outdoor picture here. Two years ago, it had approximately 250 members, virtually all of whom were directly and personally interested in sports of field and stream. However, came the war and it was among the casualties of last year.

Now an attempt is to be made to bring it back to a useful life at the Sunday meeting. Only the framework of the club was just about all that was left and it is on that that the revitalization in-

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Selling came into the wheat pit after prices had advanced more than a cent today, with all deliveries touching new seasonal highs, and part of the upturn was lost. Good support from milling and distilling interests, however, prevented any sustained retreat.
Failure of oats and rye to follow the early wheat upturn discouraged some traders. At one time rye ran into heavy selling, dropping about 2 cents, and the market exhibited an extremely nervous undertone.
At the close wheat was 1/4-1 cent higher, December $1.56 3/4, May $1.55 1/2, rye was 1/4-1/2 lower, December $1.15 1/2, May $1.14 1/2, barley—December $1.17 1/2, May $1.16 1/2.

PERJURER GETS 1 TO 10 YEARS IN BIG PRISON

Stewart Ransom Enters Plea
Of Guilty To Five Counts

Pleading guilty to five counts of perjury in connection with his divorce suit against Lois Ransom, Stewart Ransom, colored, of Wilberforce, was Thursday sentenced to one to 10 years in the Ohio penitentiary on each count by Judge H. M. Rankin, in whose court the perjury had been committed.

In deference to Ransom's family, Judge Rankin decreed that the prison terms should run concurrently, so that he can be released at the end of five years, or earlier if he gets time off for good behavior.

Ransom was represented by former Congressman L. T. Marshall, of Xenia. Marshall made a plea for leniency in behalf of his client, but Judge Rankin spoke at some length on the seriousness of the offense with which Ransom was charged and the necessity of proper punishment for persons who willfully falsify under oath while dealing with the courts.

Ransom obtained a divorce by a series of false statements to the court and when his wife appeared and moved that the decree, issued last May 13, be set aside on the grounds of five specific charges of perjury, Judge Rankin sustained the motion and set the decree aside as asked.

In the meantime Ransom, soon after obtaining the decree of divorce, married a Wilmington woman and that further complicates his troubles.

The charges were that Ransom perjured himself in giving the place of marriage, his residence; that he had no children; that his wife abandoned him and that he did not know her whereabouts.

He will be removed to the penitentiary without delay.

RECENT RAINFALL BRINGS WHEAT UP

Fields Generally Begin To Show Green

Not until the recent rainfall has the wheat generally sprouted and is now beginning to show green over the fields.

Whether part of the earlier sown grain perished for want of moisture after sprouting, or whether all wheat sown is now growing, has not been determined.

If the weather continues favorable it is expected the wheat will obtain sufficient root-hold to carry it through the winter.

Attendance at the revival meeting, being held at the Southside Church of Christ this week and next, has "exceeded our expectations," Rev. Edward J. Cain, pastor of the church, said today.

Services begin at 7:45 P. M. every day except Saturday, when no services are held, Cain said. Sunday night services begin at 7:30.

Sermon subject for Friday night is "The Greatest Question." Sunday night, a sermon on the "Prodigal Son" is scheduled and Monday night's subject is "Heroes and Cowards."

STAG PARTY AT LEGION HALL MONDAY NIGHT

'America Alert' Project
Committee Appointed at Thursday Meeting

The first Forty and Eight sponsored stag party to be held in the new Legion Home is scheduled for next Monday at 8 P. M. in the canteen on the first floor, R. B. Tharp, adjutant of Paul H. Hughey Post 25, said and added that plans for it were completed at the post meeting held Thursday night in the Legion home.

Lunch will be served during the evening, Tharp continued as he explained that invitations to attend the party had been mailed. At previous stag parties attendance has been anywhere from 30 to 100, Tharp said, although he did not estimate the crowd expected at this function.

A committee to begin work immediately on the "America Alert" program, National American Legion project, was appointed by Commander H. E. Wilson. Chairman is Harold Craig with Howard S. Harper, Howard D. Fogle, Rell G. Allen and Jess Maddox as his co-workers.

The 1944 membership cards for the 110 present members are being mailed out now, Tharp said. He added that the membership drive, with Robert Jefferson, first vice-commander of the post here as chairman, would begin next week. The drive ends November 11, Armistice Day.

Ration permits for serving cheese and meat sandwiches at the downstairs canteen have been received by the post, Tharp stated. He announced that as soon as a license was granted from the State Liquor Department, beer would be sold there as well as the sandwiches, although no service will be started until the license arrives.

In speaking of the Friday night dances, Tharp said that the average attendance had been 250. Admission charge is 25 cents per person. Last Friday's dance was the smallest yet held this season. The small crowd was explained, Tharp indicated, by the numbers of high school students who attended the Mt. Vernon-Blue Lions football game in Mt. Vernon.

ONE-THIRD OF NWF QUOTA IS REACHED NOW

First Report Meeting Reveals
$8,000 Is Contributed
In Fayette County

After four days of soliciting contributions to the National War Fund here, over one-third of the $22,000 quota is now in the hands of Treasurer J. Roush Burton.

At the first report meeting held in A. B. Murray's office Thursday night, over $8,000 was turned in by captains of soliciting teams and by chairmen of committees. Murray is the chairman of the Fayette County National War Fund committee.

A special effort is being made now to have a complete report meeting of all workers probably in the Little Theater room at Washington C. H. High School next Monday at 8 P. M., Walter Patton, publicity chairman, said today. Workers will use the Temple Street entrance to the high school.

"The returns at the first report meeting are a good indication that everyone is working to meet the quota," Patton commented, adding that it appeared that people were giving generously to the National War Fund as well. He cited several instances showing that contributions to the National War Fund were five or ten times what the individual subscriber had given to the Red Cross, USO, and other similar drives.

"The downtown district and industries have not yet been more than one-third solicited," Patton said, explaining that the committee was depending heavily on industrial contributions to meet the quota.

One solicitor reported that "everyone I contacted seemed eager to give, especially after it was explained to them just what their gift would do for service men and women, whether they were overseas, in training or war prisoners."

Pick-ups for the remainder of the city will be made later, Chairman Maynard Craig said Friday.

Paul Pennington will be in charge of the Boy Scouts who participate in the collection and city trucks are to be used.

Collections start at 1 P. M. and the pick-up will be for papers, magazines, corrugated boxes and cardboard.

Citizens are asked to tie-up the papers in bundles and leave them on their verandas.

5 Ways - - - To Cut Feed Waste!

- 1. Use self feeders. Hogs waste feed from troughs . . . waste even more when corn or other feed is put on the ground. Keep water close to feed.
- 2. Put all self feeders on wood or concrete platforms so hogs can pick up feed they spill.
- 3. Allow adequate feeding space. Hogs crowded at feeders waste much feed.
- 4. Store feed carefully. Put sacked feed in dry barns—on low platforms off the floor—separate ricks of sacks so cats can get through to keep down rats and mice.
- 5. Supplement your grain with Purina Hog Chow.
